

A WORLD FREE OF CHILD EXPLOITATION

CHILDREN ARE PROTECTED

outcome

Children at risk and victims of abuse and exploitation claim their rights

Families and communities protect children

Private sector contributes to the wellbeing of children

Government protects children by making + adequately implementing laws and policies

Law enforcement agencies convict perpetrators of child abuse and exploitation

Civil society organisations (CSO) protect the rights and best interest of children

Children

Children act as agents of change on child rights
Children express their needs to duty bearers and care-givers, and have access to legal services
Children report cases of abuse or exploitation or risk thereof
Children develop academically, psychologically, and professionally in an age-appropriate manner

Families & Communities

Families support children's access to education, health, and legal services
Families and communities report child abuse and child exploitation concerns (formal or informal systems)
Families and communities dialogue on harmful practices /abuse of children Families develop alternative livelihoods

Private Sector

Private sector acts as a strategic partner in providing equal opportunities for vulnerable children
Private sector implements policies that are in line with the UN global compact
Private sectors adopts a code of conduct for their staff with regard to child exploitation and abuse
Companies enter into a dialogue about child rights and protection

Government

Government accounts for the effective implementation of child-rights legal frameworks
Government provides access to child-friendly services that respond to their needs
Government allocates sufficient resources on all administrative levels to ensure child rights
Government enters into a dialogue with CSOs about child rights

Law enforcement agencies

Law enforcement agencies diligently prosecute perpetrators of child abuse and exploitation
Law enforcement agencies apply child-friendly protocols
Law enforcement agencies actively investigate child abuse and exploitation in a child-friendly manner
Law enforcement agencies facilitate the reporting of child abuse and child exploitation cases

CSOs

CSOs hold government, private sector and other CSOs accountable for the protection of children
CSOs coordinate Child rights advocacy among their constituency and in inter-CSO networks
CSOs develop/revise their policies and activities to ensure children's best interests are served CSOs actively engage their constituency in decision-making on child rights

pathways to change

PREVENTION

To empower children and mobilise families and communities for prevention of child exploitation. We constantly invest in education services and awareness-raising campaigns

PROVISION

To protect and empower children with the aim of a safe and sustainable reintegration in society. We provide child victims of exploitation with education, shelter, gainful employment, medical care and therapy services

PROMOTION

To advocate and uphold the rights of children. We organize public and media campaigns, conduct research into the scale and nature of abuse and exploitation, as well as lobby for attention and change

PROSECUTION

To seek justice for the victims. We assist children and their families to report abuse and CE cases, offer legal aid and social protection, train and assist police, public prosecution offices and justice departments strategies

intermediate outcome

Partners operate more effectively to deliver high quality services and influence policies to ensure child protection

strategy

PARTNERSHIP & PARTICIPATION

To engage with partners to realise children's rights with the meaningful participation of children

CHILDREN ARE EXPLOITED THROUGH CHILD LABOUR, SEXUAL ABUSE, SEXUAL EXPLOITATION AND TRAFFICKING. CHILDREN ARE EXTREMELY VULNERABLE WHEN THEY ARE ON THE MOVE FROM THEIR HABITUAL PLACE OF RESIDENCE